Headline:
Dry and bright start. Patchy rain later.

Today:
It will be a dry and bright start for most, although thicker cloud and outbreaks of rain through Kintyre and Argyll. Some early sunshine across parts of Lanarkshire will fade as cloud thickens from the north with patchy rain later. Maximum temperature 16 deg C (61 deg F).

Tonight:
Mostly cloudy with patchy light rain this evening, but mainly dry and the cloud thinning and breaking later in the night. Rather chilly by dawn and winds light. Minimum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Thursday:
It will be a dry and bright day with some sunny spells expected. After a chilly start temperatures will recover and winds remaining light. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Mainly dry and bright on Friday and Saturday. Feeling quite warm in any sunshine, but a risk of frost at night. Colder with rain clearing to wintry showers on Sunday.
